HOMESICK

- 16 -

It's better to stay awake.
You have a lot of things to do.

You're probably wondering who we are. Frankly, you don't even need to know; after all, you'll be dead in an hour. However, we prepared all of this just for you, so you should know a little bit about us
Shit, what are we doing? Let's just kill that bastard and leave this place!
Relax, Tom! I waited too long for this moment. Just shut up and wait!
Sorry about that. Should we finish our conversation about our problem?

First, let me introduce myself. My name is-Alice Moritz.
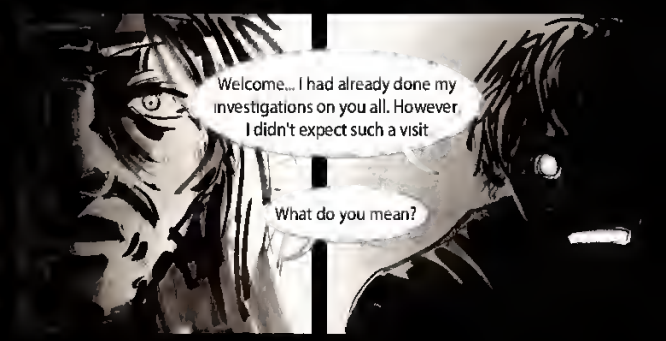
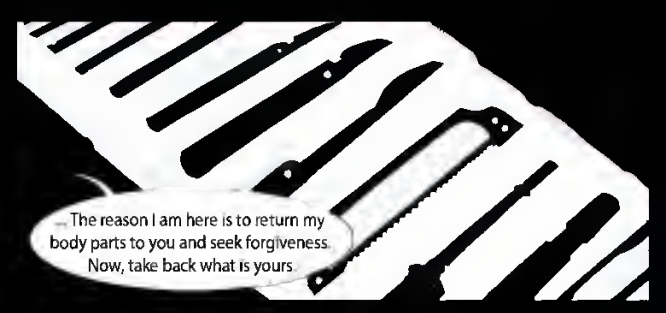
Alice Moritz, the mother of a female athlete who had her legs amputated and killed 20 years ago. Vanished since.
Jill Collins, daughter of Collins who was killed and had his left arm amputated. Vanished since, as well.
Jackson Tyler, whose younger brother was found without his vital organs 20 years ago.
And... Tom Black.
...was kidnapped 20 years ago by an unknown suspect. He succeeded in escaping but had his right hand amputated. Failed to capture the suspect.



Welcome... I had already done my investigations on you all. However, I didn't expect such a visit
What do you mean?



... The reason I am here is to return my body parts to you and seek forgiveness. Now, take back what is yours.

You arrogant son of a bitch! How dare you! Forgiveness? How can you use that word toward us! We're not here to give you forgiveness! We're here to rip apart your body to pieces!

... I don't care. You can torture me as much as you wish. I am simply here to pay for my father's sins
Twenty years! 20! Do you know how long that is? All I thought about every day was the person who killed my daughter! I thought about whether I should stab him to death or burn him to death!
However... Because all I thought about was how to kill him. I even forgot my daughter's face... Do you know that? The pain of slowly losing your precious memories? The more I try to keep them, the more they disappear. Why did it have to be my daughter? Why us?
You made us suffer so much and now you ask for forgiveness?
... I'm sorry. My father is...
Your "father" has nothing to do with this anymore! He's been dead for a long time anyway! Now you have to pay for his sins.
What do you mean? My father died?
We're running out of time. Let's get down to business.
Wait! What do you mean my father died?! What are you saying?!

What we're about to do...
is the "surgery game".
